In a segment on A Current Affair Ken Duncan was hailed as “definitely one of Australia’s most iconic image makers”. A leading American gallery described him as ‘the Ansel Adams of Colour photography’ - a high compliment indeed.

Considered a master in his field of photography, Ken has won numerous Australian and international awards for his images and publications. It’s Ken’s amazing diversity that has given him such great recognition.

Ken’s Fine Art Prints are owned by major business leaders, movie and music industry icons, spiritual leaders, Sheiks, investors, collectors and private individuals all around the world. Over the past twenty years Ken has also published an extensive range of photographic books, posters, calendars, and many other premium products.

During his career, Ken has sought out places not previously photographed in order to provide a feeling of the real ‘pioneer’ Australia which exists beyond the coastal fringes. He became one of the first photographers in Australia to successfully pioneer the concept of high quality Limited Edition Photographic Prints, and he now has a collection of more than 200,000 panoramic images. Unequalled in depth, the library has been hailed as the best collection of Australian landscapes ever seen.

Ken retained a very special love for his home country of Australia, but he has also completed major projects in the USA, Europe, Asia, Africa and the Middle East. Widely recognised as a master in his field of photography, Ken has won numerous awards both nationally and internationally for his images and publications. He has worked for many prestigious publications, including The New York Times, National Geographic, and Rolling Stone. He has been published in more than 75 books worldwide. Ken has also worked with prominent advertising agencies on international accounts, and directly with major corporations such as Bank of America, American Airlines, Qantas, Fuji Film and many more.

Ken Duncan strives for the highest excellence in everything he does. His artworks are produced by master printers using the finest quality materials. There is no compromise with a Ken Duncan artwork – it simply has to be the best. Photography is the art form of the new generation: it has a realism no other medium can match. People want peace in their lives and in their surroundings and nothing delivers as well as a classic Ken Duncan landscape.
